

YOUTH POWER

Energy Camp

For nearly 25 years, Oklahoma's rural electric cooperatives have been sending the state's brightest junior high students to YouthPower Energy Camp, and now it's your turn! Imagine spending four days of your summer swimming, hiking, riding go-carts, and making new friends. You will improve your leadership skills and learn about one of our country's important industries...rural electrification.

Join us at Canyon Camp near the beautiful Red Rock Canyon just south of Hinton, OK, where you'll experience first-hand the exciting world of rural electricity: watch safety demonstrations, climb a pole, watch a co-op crew at work, as well as have some awesome outdoor summer fun!
